SUBJECT: Brewer Valve Body

A new brewer valve body has been introduced into production and spare parts, effective on October 12, 2004, starting with S/N 22304279006.

The material of the brew valve body has been changed to polysulfone to improve performance and durability and for consistency with the other valves used in our product range.

The new valve body and the valve assembly have new part numbers noted below. Please update your manuals with these new part numbers. The old brew valve and any kits containing the old brew valve are now no longer available.

A new Brew Valve Rebuild Kit is now available, P/N 27500117 and consists of the new polysulfone valve body, and a replacement diaphragm and water tank grommet. When rebuilding a brewer valve, all three pieces must be replaced.

The new Brew Valve Rebuild Kit will be available at no charge from your authorized APi distributor or the APi Spare Parts Dept in St. Paul until January 31, 2005, by providing the machine serial number at the time of ordering. There will be a limit of 30 kits per order. After that date, normal warranty replacement procedures will apply. For questions regarding this information, please contact APi Product Support at 800-523-5932.
